I Look at the pictures and identify the vocations. Now, list at least five more vocations.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Pictures: basket maker (cane/bamboo weaver), potter, handloom weaver, carpenter.

Five more: blacksmith, tailor, goldsmith, cobbler (shoemaker), mason, painter, sculptor.

II 1 What is common among these pictures?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

All of them show people making things by hand with skill: they are traditional crafts.

II 2 We refer to such skill-based work as v__ __ a __ __ o __ s.

II 3 Mention a few differences between handmade and machine-made products.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Handmade: made one by one, each piece is unique, takes more time, shows the maker's skill.

- Machine-made: made in large numbers, all pieces look the same, quick and usually cheaper.

⭐ The Pot Maker · Check Your Understanding (Part I)

I Do you think pot making is easy? If yes, why? If no, why not?

✔ ANSWER

No. The clay must be brought from a riverbank 16 km away, down a sheer drop, and carried uphill. Pounding the clay is tiring, shaping needs great skill, and it takes months to make one batch, which can be ruined by wrong firing.

II Would Sentila be able to fulfil her dream of becoming a pot maker? Explain.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Yes, most likely. She is passionate and keeps watching the expert potters. The village council has also told her father that Arenla must teach her the skill.

III Do you think Mesoba and Arenla would support Sentila? Give a reason.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Yes. The village council reminded Mesoba that it was Arenla's duty to pass on the skill, and Mesoba promised that Sentila would soon make the best pots in the village.

⭐ The Pot Maker · Check Your Understanding (Part II)

I Do you think Onula's support helped Sentila? If yes, why? If no, why not?

✔ ANSWER

Yes. Onula saw that Sentila was too tense, calmed her, showed her how to make a pot and gave her confidence. She also told her to watch her mother shape the mouth of the pot. After that Sentila made a beautiful pot.

II Sentila observes her mother making pots. What does this tell us about her?

✔ ANSWER

She is a keen, patient and quick learner. She is determined to learn the craft properly and follows Onula's advice.

III Arrange the events in the correct sequence:

1. Village council called Mesoba about Arenla's unwillingness to teach.

2. Arenla made a batch and asked Sentila to continue as she was unwell.

3. Sentila observed how other expert potters crafted pots.

4. Sentila was passionate about pottery but did not share it with her mother.

5. Onula guided Sentila in pot making.

6. Sentila overheard her mother saying pot making was tiring and paid little.

7. Onula observed two rows of pots, the work of two people.

8. Sentila learnt from her mother for a year but was unsuccessful.

9. Sentila made pots quickly, just one less than her mother.

✔ ANSWER

4 → 6 → 3 → 1 → 8 → 5 → 2 → 9 → 7

⭐ The Pot Maker · Critical Reflection

I 1 (i) Choose the correct reason for the assertion.

(A): The effort in making pots is far greater than the returns.

A. The process is tiresome and long, and one hardly earns much.

B. The process is exhausting, takes long, yet gives satisfaction.

✔ ANSWER

A. Arenla says it takes months and the reward is only a few rupees.

I 1 (ii) Why does Arenla want Sentila to learn weaving?

✔ ANSWER

Weaving earns much more money, gives enough cloth for the family, is not messy, can be done indoors in all seasons and takes less time.

I 1 (iii) State one advantage that weaving has over pot making, as per the extract.

✔ ANSWER

Weaving is not messy and can be done indoors in all seasons.

I 1 (iv) Choose the sentence that uses 'handsome' as in the extract.

A. My father is a handsome man.

B. They will make a handsome profit selling this property.

✔ ANSWER

B. Here 'handsome' means large (a good amount of money).

I 1 (v) 'And the reward?' What is the purpose of the question mark here?

✔ ANSWER

It is a rhetorical question. It stresses Arenla's bitterness that after so much hard work the reward is only a few rupees.

I 2 (i) Onula feels Sentila's effort at making a pot is clumsy because _____.

✔ ANSWER

Sentila was too tense, so the clay would not take the right shape.

I 2 (ii) 'Don't worry, little one, I shall teach you how to make a perfect pot.' This shows that Onula was _____.

A. sincere and generous

B. forgiving and thoughtful

C. thoughtful and generous

D. forgiving and sincere

✔ ANSWER

C. thoughtful and generous – she noticed Sentila's tension and comforted her, and freely offered to share her skill.

I 2 (iii) Which is the effect of a cause?

A. As a result, the clay seemed unable or unwilling to yield the right shape.

B. Onula saw her taking out some clay and the implements from her basket quietly.

✔ ANSWER

A. It is the effect of Sentila being too tense.

I 2 (iv) 'Onula fashioned a beautiful pot.' Here, 'fashioned' means _____ (created/styled).

✔ ANSWER

created

I 2 (v) How might Sentila have felt when she saw 'the misshapen lump fall flat on the ground'?

✔ ANSWER

She must have felt tired, frustrated and disappointed, perhaps even hopeless.

II 1 Describe the process of pot making followed by expert pot makers, as observed by Sentila.

✔ ANSWER

- Clay is mixed with water and pounded.
- The left hand is pushed into a lump of soft clay; the lump is rotated and shaped with a spatula in the right hand (tap, tap).

- After two or three days the pots get a final touch-up and are dried in the sun.
- They are loaded on a kiln on a bed of hay and dried bamboo, covered with the same, and fired. The fire must be tended carefully.

II 2 What warning was given to Mesoba by the village council?

✔ ANSWER

He was told to remind Arenla that it was her duty to teach her daughter the skill handed down over generations. Such skills do not belong to any individual, and experts must pass them on to anyone who wishes to learn.

II 3 How did Sentila feel when she failed at pot making even after a year of training with her mother?

✔ ANSWER

She felt ashamed and frustrated; she hung her head in shame.

II 4 'Onula stood there for a long time as if trying to absorb a new phenomenon.' Explain.

✔ ANSWER

Onula saw two rows of pots that looked exactly alike. She knew they were made by two people – Arenla and Sentila. She was amazed and needed time to understand that the skill had passed from mother to daughter; a new pot maker was born.

II 5 'The tradition and history of the people did not belong to any individual.' What does this symbolise?

✔ ANSWER

It symbolises that traditional skills are the shared heritage of the whole community. Experts must pass them on so that the craft and the people's identity survive.

II 6 What is the significance of the concluding line, 'A new pot maker was born'?

✔ ANSWER

Sentila has finally mastered the craft; her pots matched her mother's. The tradition continues to the next generation even as Arenla dies.

II 7 What is the role of perseverance in pursuing one's dreams? Elaborate with reference to Sentila.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Perseverance means not giving up. Sentila watched potters secretly, practised for a year without success, felt ashamed, yet kept trying and followed Onula's advice. In the end she made pots as well as her mother. Dreams come true with steady effort.

I Fill in with the exact words you hear.

A statue is carved to create a shape that is 1. ___. Among the many things stone is used for, making stone 2. ___ is one of them. India has some of the most 3. ___ stone sculptures...

✔ ANSWER

1. visually interesting (three-dimensional)
2. sculptures
3. fascinating and mesmerising

II Select the six correct steps out of the nine:

1. carve to remove large unwanted portions of the stone

2. set up the different tools

3. measure the weight and dimensions of the statue

4. leave the statue in water to firm up overnight

5. refine the creation within the stone

6. choose the stone

7. begin carving from the centre

8. detach the creation from the stone as the final statue

9. work to bring out the imagined shape

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Correct steps: 6, 3, 1, 9, 2, 8 (choose the stone by the weight and dimensions needed → remove large unwanted portions → bring out the imagined shape using different tools → detach the statue).

Not mentioned: 4 and 7; 5 is wrong because the statue is refined only after it is detached.

Note: the speaker only says "different tools are used", so some teachers may accept 5 (the form is developed in the stone itself) in place of 2.

🧪 The Pot Maker · Speaking Activity

1 Role-play between Sentila and another character (Arenla, Mesoba, Onula or a village elder) about Sentila's desire, her challenges and the other character's advice.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Sentila: Onula, I feel sad because my hands cannot shape the clay, though I wish to be a pot maker like Mother.

Onula: Little one, you are too tense. Relax and let the clay move with your hands.

Sentila: When Mother said pot making brought her no joy, it made me feel she would never teach me.

Onula: Your mother is tired, not unkind. Watch her carefully when she shapes the mouth of the pot. You are a quick learner.

Sentila: I felt hopeful when you made that pot so easily. I will try again!

⭐ The Pot Maker · Writing Task

I Write a reflective write-up about your skills and passions (introduction, skills, passion into profession, examples, conclusion).

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

My Skills and My Passion

Ever since I was small, I have loved drawing. Colours make me happy, and when I draw I forget everything else.

To improve, I join the art club at school every Saturday and practise sketching for half an hour daily. I also watch free online lessons on design and have started learning to draw on a computer.

I believe drawing and computer skills can turn my passion into a profession as a graphic designer. Today almost every product, book and website needs good design.

Last year I designed the poster for our school Science fair, and many people praised it. This showed me that my love for art and my computer skills work well together and gave me confidence.

This reflection taught me that a hobby practised regularly can become a career. I must keep learning, accept feedback and never stop practising.

I 1 Match the pictures with the pottery they represent (Khurja, Blue pottery of Jaipur, Terracotta of West Bengal, Andretta, Karigari, Longpi Black).

- Row 2: blue glazed plates – Andretta (HP); red clay pots – Karigari (Tamil Nadu); black pots with handles – Longpi Black (Manipur).

II Read 'Quality' by John Galsworthy. Write its review and make a presentation on the decline of traditional crafts vs. industrialisation and mass-produced goods.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Review: 'Quality' tells of Mr Gessler, a German bootmaker in London who makes only perfect boots by hand with the best leather. Big firms win customers by advertisement, not work, and his trade dies. He keeps working day and night and finally dies of slow starvation. The story is simple and moving; Gessler's broken English and devotion make him unforgettable.

Presentation points:

- Handmade goods: quality, long life, the maker's pride and skill.
- Factory goods: cheap, quick, advertised, but often of lower quality.
- Result: craftspeople lose work and skills disappear (like Gessler, like Arenla's hard life).
- What we can do: buy local handicrafts, support fairs and training, give craftspeople fair prices.
