⭐ Winds of Change · Reflect and Respond

I Does anyone in your family use a hand fan? What do you call it in your language? What is it made of?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Yes, my grandmother uses a hand fan in summer, especially when there is no electricity.

In Hindi we call it pankha (a small one is called pankhi).

It is made of palm leaf with a bamboo handle.

II Study the pictures and complete the information about fans from Assam, Kerala and Uttar Pradesh (shape and material).

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

State	Shape	Made of
Assam	round (circular)	bamboo (thin woven bamboo strips)
Kerala	round / circular (folded like a fan)	palm leaf
Uttar Pradesh	square	moonj grass

III Match the underlined words with their meanings: 1. indigenous 2. innovative 3.

industrious 4. intricate 5. invoked 6. initiatives

✔ ANSWER

1. indigenous – (iv) local — from where it originated
2. innovative – (v) new and original in approach
3. industrious – (i) hardworking
4. intricate – (vi) elaborate/detailed
5. invoked – (iii) brought out
6. initiatives – (ii) actions to improve a situation

Bihar	bamboo hand fans (colourful and sturdy)	bamboo

⭐ Winds of Change · Critical Reflection

I 1 (i) Extract 1 (‘Over time, pankhas became significant cultural goods…’). True or false: Pankhas were one of the most popular items of commerce.

✔ ANSWER

False. The extract says pankhas were ‘significant cultural goods’ traded along routes, not that they were one of the most popular items of commerce.

I 1 (ii) Why has the word ‘traditional’ been used to describe pankhas?

✔ ANSWER

Because pankhas have been made and used for centuries, in ways passed down through generations, and each village or town has its own customary style and materials.

I 1 (iii) The sentence ‘They were considered exotic and stylish’ is an opinion and not a fact because _____.

✔ ANSWER

it shows what people thought or felt about pankhas; it is a personal judgement that cannot be proved or measured.

I 1 (iv) Infer one reason for commonality in the use of pankhas across India.

✔ ANSWER

India has a hot climate in most places, so people everywhere needed hand fans to keep cool.

I 1 (v) Select the correct assertion for the reason.

Reason: Pankhas were made of indigenous materials, unique to the region, with elaborate designs.

A. Each kind of pankha could be distinguished from the other.

B. Pankhas were used by many people.

✔ ANSWER

A. Each kind of pankha could be distinguished from the other – distinct local materials and designs 'set them apart from one another'.

I 2 (i) Extract 2 ('With time and the advent of technology...'). Infer one negative impact of technological advancement on pankha.

✔ ANSWER

Electric fans and coolers have replaced hand fans, so the culture of pankhas is slowly losing its presence among Indians.

I 2 (ii) The writer refers to ‘pankhas’ not just as an object but as a ‘culture’ because _____.

✔ ANSWER

pankhas carry the traditions, stories, rituals and artistry of each region; they are part of people’s way of life, not just a tool to cool oneself.

I 2 (iii) Select a line from the extract which depicts how the role of the pankha has changed over the years.

✔ ANSWER

“Once made for personal use, over time this handicraft has transformed into a commercial business.”

I 2 (iv) List one way in which the increase in demand of pankhas might benefit artisans.

✔ ANSWER

Artisans can sell more pankhas and earn a better, steady livelihood.

I 2 (v) Select the factor that has contributed to the commercialisation of pankhas. A. cultural preservation B. economic demand C. technological advancements D. artisan initiative

✔ ANSWER

B. economic demand – the extract says the slight increase in popularity and demand has turned the craft into a commercial business.

II 1 How does the title 'Winds of Change' capture the essence of the chapter?

✔ ANSWER

A pankha creates wind, and the chapter shows how pankhas have changed over time – from fanning gods and kings, to trade goods, to decorative craft items and a business. 'Winds of Change' joins both ideas: the breeze of the fan and the changes in its role.

II 2 Support with two examples: 'The structure and design of pankhas are testimony to the cultural identity of the region.'

✔ ANSWER

- Gujarat, the centre of bead craft and mirror work, makes cotton fans with mirror work and bead-covered fans.

- Rajasthan makes appliqué and zardozi fans with gold threadwork and engraved brass temple fans, showing its royal and temple traditions.

(Others: Bengal's sola and Tal Patar Pankha; Kutch's leather fans.)

II 3 Evaluate how the balance between preserving traditional craftsmanship and incorporating innovative designs will help pankhas not lose their presence.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Keeping traditional skills protects the identity and beauty of the craft. Adding new designs, colours and uses (gifts, wall décor, customised fans) makes pankhas attractive to today's buyers. Together they keep the craft alive and give artisans a market, so pankhas stay in people's homes.

II 4 How might initiatives such as pankha-making workshops contribute to the preservation of this traditional craft?

✔ ANSWER

Workshops teach the skill to new learners, spread awareness of the craft's beauty and importance, let artisans show their work and find buyers, and so help the craft continue to the next generation.

Q 5 Assess how celebrating pankhas could be beneficial to artisans and the craft.

✔ ANSWER

Celebrating pankhas makes people appreciate their culture, stories and artistry. Artisans get a chance to demonstrate their craft, regain its popularity and get a commercial platform for a sustainable livelihood. The craft itself is preserved.

Q 6 How does the restriction of the use of pankha for decorative purposes reflect the changing cultural role of these fans in modern India?

✔ ANSWER

Earlier pankhas were a daily need and were used in temples and royal courts. Now electric fans do the cooling, so pankhas are kept as décor and craft items. Their role has changed from a useful object to a symbol of heritage and art.

Winds of Change · Vocabulary and Structures in Context

I 1 Classify the pairs into Appearance, Place, Material:
exotic and stylish, villages and towns, thread and wool, silk and brass, ornate and encrusted, within and outside

✔ ANSWER

Appearance	Place	Material
exotic and stylish	villages and towns	thread and wool ornate and encrusted	within and outside	silk and brass

I (more) Find more such word pairs from the text.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

sculptures and carvings; temples and royal courts; brass and leather; grass and metal; cane and palm leaves; silk and satin; antiquity and rarity; popularity and demand; beauty and importance; culture and stories

II Make fixed expressions from Word 1 (high, cut, fact, all, wear, time, thick, hard) and Word 2 (tear, fast, sundry, thin, figures, run, again, dry), and match them with the meanings (i)–(vii).

✔ ANSWER

Pairs: high and dry, cut and run, facts and figures, all and sundry, wear and tear, time and again, thick and thin, hard and fast.

(i) in a difficult situation, without help or money – high and dry

(ii) the damage to an object due to normal use – wear and tear

(iii) accurate and detailed information – facts and figures

(iv) even when there are problems or difficulties – (through) thick and thin

(v) everyone, not just a few special people – all and sundry

(vi) often; on many or all occasions – time and again

(vii) to make a quick or sudden escape – cut and run

(hard and fast = fixed, that cannot be changed, e.g. hard and fast rules; it has no meaning in the list.)

✔ ANSWER

(i) have created

(ii) have mastered

(iii) has evolved

(iv) have passed

(v) have performed

⭐ Winds of Change · Listen and Respond

I Choose four true statements out of 1–7.

1. Rohan thinks Grandma prefers heavier items because they feel more substantial.

2. Priya suggests getting a pankha that can be easily moved around.

3. Rohan believes Grandma enjoys sitting in the verandah during the evenings.

4. Priya knows Grandma likes to keep special items close to her.

5. Rohan thinks a pankha with intricate designs would be too delicate for Grandma's liking.

6. Priya suggests choosing between a bamboo pankha with beadwork or an embroidered pankha with mirror work.

7. Rohan decides they should buy the pankha without consulting their mom.

✔ ANSWER

True: 1, 2, 3 and 6.

- 1: Rohan says Grandma 'likes things with a bit of weight'.
- 2: Priya agrees a heavy one is hard to move and suggests 'something in between'.
- 3: 'she likes sitting in the veranda in the evenings.'
- 6: 'the lightweight bamboo one with the delicate beadwork, or the medium-weight embroidered one with the mirror work.'

False: 4 (Rohan says it), 5 (he finds them beautiful), 7 (he wants to ask Mom).

🧪 Winds of Change · Speaking Activity

I Imagine yourself to be one of the fans (hand fan, ceiling fan, table fan, handheld fan). Introduce and describe yourself, what you like, your weakness and what makes you unique.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Hello! I am a hand fan, made of palm leaf with a bamboo handle.

I am light, round and easy to carry. I need no electricity and make no noise.

I like that I am eco-friendly and that artisans make me with care and beautiful designs.

My weakness is that I give a breeze only when someone moves me, and the hand gets tired.

I am unique because I carry the culture of my region – no two hand fans of different states look the same.

⭐ Winds of Change · Writing Task

I Describe an artefact you have made in your craft class or learnt from someone (factual description, no opinion).

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Paper Hand Fan

Last month, in my craft class, I made a paper hand fan. It is about 25 cm long and has the shape of a half circle when opened.

Materials: one A4 sheet of coloured chart paper, two ice-cream sticks, glue, sketch pens and a piece of ribbon.

Process: First, I drew simple patterns on the paper with sketch pens. Then I folded the sheet back and forth in pleats of about 2 cm, like an accordion. I pressed the folds firmly and tied the bottom end tightly with the ribbon. Next, I glued one ice-cream stick to each outer fold as handles. When the glue dried, I opened the sticks so the paper spread out into a fan.

Use: It can be used to fan oneself and can be folded and carried in a bag. It can also be hung on a wall as a decoration.

📘 Winds of Change · Learning Beyond the Text

I Identify any art or craft item from your region and make a presentation on its features, materials, process, usage, origin and use today.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Madhubani painting (Bihar) – sample points:

- Features: bright colours, fine line work, double borders, figures of gods, fish, birds and nature; no empty space.
- Materials: handmade paper or cloth, natural colours (turmeric, indigo, soot, flowers), bamboo twigs, nib pens.
- Origin: Mithila region; traditionally painted by women on mud walls during festivals and weddings.

- Over time: moved from walls to paper, cloth, sarees and bags; now sold across India and abroad.
- Today: use as wall décor, cards and clothing; buy from artisans to support them.

II Make your own hand fan in groups of four, display it and describe the process.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Fold a coloured sheet into narrow pleats, decorate it, tie or glue one end, fix two sticks as handles, and open it into a fan. Describe each step in order while displaying it (see the pictures in your book).

⭐ Canvas of Soil · Reflect and Respond

I Discuss what all you see in a garden – the colours and where you see them.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Green grass on the ground and green leaves on plants and trees; red roses, yellow marigolds and white jasmine in flower beds; brown soil and tree trunks; blue sky above; colourful butterflies near flowers.

II Speak about similarities between a garden and a painting, using the given prompts.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Just as a garden is full of colourful flowers, similarly, a painting is full of colours.
- A garden and a painting both please our eyes and calm our mind.
- Careful planning and creativity is common to both a garden and a painting.
- Like a garden, a painting too needs patience and care to look beautiful.

III Look at the painting and identify palette, canvas, and select a hue.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Palette: the board on which the painter mixes colours (in the picture, the garden soil/earth where colours come from). Canvas: the painting itself / the garden plot. Hue: e.g. bright red of the roses (check the picture in your book).

⭐ Canvas of Soil · Check Your Understanding

I 1 The _____ is portrayed as a rich palette where gardeners' __ __ __ a __ s flourish in the form of _____, awaiting spring.

✔ ANSWER

earth ... dreams ... seeds

II Select the appropriate title for each stanza (two extra): 1. Nature's Work of Art 2. Sweet-smelling Blossoms 3. Gardens as Living Canvases 4. Earth and Possibilities 5. The Painter's Canvas

✔ ANSWER

Stanza 1 – Earth and Possibilities

Stanza 2 – Nature's Work of Art

Stanza 3 – Gardens as Living Canvases

(Extra: Sweet-smelling Blossoms, The Painter's Canvas)

III Match the poetic devices with examples.

1. Imagery 2. Metaphor 3. Rhyme scheme 4. Tone 5. Mood 6. Speaker 7. Alliteration

(i) appreciative (ii) AABB (iii) 'Blossoms bloom' (iv) colours, brushstrokes, blossoms, shades of green (v) a gardener (vi) garden as a painting, plot as canvas, seeds as brushstrokes (vii) joyful

✔ ANSWER

1. Imagery – (iv)
2. Metaphor – (vi)
3. Rhyme scheme – (ii) AABB
4. Tone – (i) appreciative
5. Mood – (vii) joyful
6. Speaker – (v) a gardener
7. Alliteration – (iii) 'Blossoms bloom'

⭐ Canvas of Soil · Critical Reflection

I 1 (i) 'Brushstrokes of seeds' is a metaphor. Which option uses a metaphor?

A. Her mother's heart heard her heartfelt request with kindness.

B. She has a heart of gold.

C. Her heart did a dance of joy on seeing the new doll.

D. She has a very kind heart.

✔ ANSWER

B. She has a heart of gold. – her heart is directly called gold (a comparison without 'like' or 'as').

I 1 (ii) The phrase 'planted true' is significant because it implies _____.

✔ ANSWER

the seeds have been sown carefully and correctly, with hope, so they will grow well and bloom.

I 1 (iii) Why has the poet used the word 'hue' instead of 'colours'?

✔ ANSWER

'Hue' means a shade of colour, so it fits the painting image; it also rhymes with 'true'.

I 1 (iv) Summer : hot :: Spring : _____

✔ ANSWER

vibrant

I 1 (v) (A): Gardeners wait for Spring.

(R): Gardens are worth painting in Spring.

A. Both true, R explains A B. Both true, R does not explain A C. A true, R false D. A false, R true

✔ ANSWER

B. Both are true, but gardeners wait for spring because their seeds bloom into flowers then, not because gardens are worth painting.

I 2 (i) What does 'Each plot' refer to in this extract?

✔ ANSWER

Each piece of land in a garden where plants and flowers are grown.

I 2 (ii) Which option imitates the rhyme scheme of the extract? A. beautiful and clear / laughter and cheer B. beautiful and clear / laughter and tears

✔ ANSWER

A – 'clear/cheer' rhyme like 'wide/coincide' (AA).

I 2 (iii) Select the line that conveys that gardening blends aesthetic beauty with natural growth.

✔ ANSWER

"Where art and life coincide."

I 2 (iv) The plot is likened to a canvas suggesting that _____.

✔ ANSWER

the gardener creates beauty on it with plants and flowers, just as a painter creates a picture on a canvas.

I 2 (v) Why has the poet most likely used 'wide' instead of 'long' in 'canvas wide'?

✔ ANSWER

'Wide' shows a broad, open space with room for many colours and plants; it also rhymes with 'coincide'.

II 1 A painter is compared to a gardener because _____.

✔ ANSWER

both create beauty with care and skill – the painter with colours on canvas, the gardener with plants on soil.

II 2 A palette is like earth as _____.

✔ ANSWER

the earth holds the seeds that give all the colours of the garden, just as a palette holds the painter's colours.

II 3 The brushstrokes are like seeds because _____.

✔ ANSWER

each seed planted adds colour and shape to the garden, just as each brushstroke adds to a painting.

II 4 A canvas is similar to a garden plot as _____.

✔ ANSWER

both are the surface on which the artwork is created and becomes visible.

III 1 How does the metaphor 'Brushstrokes of seeds' enhance the understanding of gardening as an art form?

✔ ANSWER

It shows that planting each seed is like a painter's brushstroke – planned and careful. When the seeds grow, they fill the garden with colour like a finished painting. So gardening is seen as a creative art, not just work.

III 2 What can you infer about the poet's view on nature and creativity from 'Each plot, a canvas wide,/Where art and life coincide.'?

✔ ANSWER

The poet believes nature and creativity go together. In a garden, living things (life) and human creativity (art) meet; the gardener works with nature to make something beautiful.

III 3 Do you think the imagery in the poem successfully paints a vivid picture in the reader's mind? Why?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Yes. Words like 'palette of earth', 'brushstrokes of seeds', 'blossoms bloom', 'dancing in the morning light' and 'shades of green, red, and blue' help us see a colourful garden full of flowers moving in the sunlight.

III 4 Support the view that mentioning yellow, besides red, blue and green, would have added to the imagery.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Yellow is the colour of sunlight and of many flowers like marigolds and sunflowers. It would add brightness and warmth, match ‘morning light’, and make the garden-painting look even more complete and lively.

III 5 Considering ‘Gardens become paintings still’, what can you interpret about the poet’s view on the timelessness of nature’s beauty?

✔ ANSWER

The poet feels a garden’s beauty is lasting, like a still-life painting. Even though seasons change, nature’s artwork is ‘ever new’ and its beauty stays with us forever.

III 6 Justify the title of the poem, ‘Canvas of Soil’.

✔ ANSWER

The poem compares a garden to a painting: the earth is the palette, seeds are brushstrokes and each plot is a canvas. The soil is the canvas on which gardeners and nature ‘paint’ with flowers, so the title suits the poem.

⭐ Canvas of Soil · Vocabulary in Context

I Discuss any two things that you can associate with the shades of red, green and blue.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Scarlet: a rose, a fire engine; Vermilion: sindoor, kumkum; Salmon: salmon fish, a sunset sky
- Pistachio: pista ice cream, pista nuts; Olive: olives, army uniforms; Apple green: raw apples, new leaves
- Navy blue: school uniforms, sailors' dress; Sky blue: the clear sky, a baby's blanket; Denim: jeans, jackets

II What might the underlined painting-related words mean? (easels, tonal range, portrait, underpainting, mural)

✔ ANSWER

- I think easel means a wooden stand that holds a canvas because the passage talks about painters approaching their easels and framing a canvas.
- I think tonal range means the variety of light and dark shades of colours because the passage talks about playing with shades and hues.

- I think portrait means a picture of someone's face because the passage talks about capturing a friend's features.
- I think underpainting means the first, base layer of paint because the passage talks about filling the final colours after it.
- I think mural means a large painting done on a wall because the passage talks about a Spring Day on the right wall of the classroom.

⭐ Canvas of Soil · Listen and Respond

I Identify which of the pictures 1–3 she does not talk about. (1. garden bench 2. water tap with hose pipe 3. butterflies)

✔ ANSWER

2 – the water tap and hose pipe. She talks about the butterflies and the painted garden bench, but not about a hose pipe.

II 1 The colour of flowers in the first row: white / red / pink

✔ ANSWER

pink

II 2 The type of flowers in the second row: marigold / jasmine / rose

✔ ANSWER

rose (red roses)

II 3 Position of the useful plants: left corners / right corners / left and right corners

✔ ANSWER

left corners ('in both the left corners')

II 4 The number of potted evergreen plants: 15 / 20 / 25

✔ ANSWER

20

II 5 The paint colour on the bricks bordering the garden: black and white / red and black / white and red white and red

✔ ANSWER

II 6 Type of tree in the centre of the garden: neem / peepal / banyan

✔ ANSWER

banyan

II 7 Things created with waste material: dustbins / plant name boards / bird houses

✔ ANSWER

dustbins

🧪 Canvas of Soil · Speaking Activity

I Note some advantages of a flower garden and a vegetable garden at home.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Flower garden: looks beautiful, gives fragrance, attracts butterflies and bees, reduces stress, flowers can be used for worship and decoration.

Vegetable garden: gives fresh, chemical-free vegetables, saves money, teaches children about growing food, uses kitchen waste as compost, keeps us active.

II Would you like to have a flower garden or a vegetable garden at home? Why? (use the prompts)

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- I prefer a vegetable garden to a flower garden because it gives us fresh, healthy food every day.

- For me, it is a vegetable garden instead of a flower garden due to the money it saves on buying vegetables.
- If I had a choice I'd rather have a vegetable garden than a flower garden as I can use kitchen waste as compost.
- I would prefer growing vegetables rather than flowers since my whole family can enjoy the harvest.

⭐ Canvas of Soil · Writing Task

I Write a descriptive piece of two to three paragraphs describing the details and colours in a garden you have visited.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Last spring I visited the Lodhi Garden in Delhi early one morning. As I entered, a soft green carpet of grass stretched in every direction. The leaves of the trees showed many greens – the dark, glossy green of the mango trees, the light green of new neem leaves, and the dusty olive of old bushes. Dew drops on the grass shone like tiny pearls in the sunlight.

The flower beds looked like strokes of bright paint. Crimson and scarlet roses stood out sharply against the deep green leaves. Their petals felt soft and velvety, and a few still held drops of water. Beside them, small blue morning glories climbed a fence, their colour matching the clear sky above. Where the red and blue flowers met, the contrast made each colour look even brighter.

As the sun rose higher, the light changed the colours. The greens became golden at the edges, the reds glowed, and the shadows under the trees turned a cool blue-grey. Butterflies moved from flower to flower like living specks of colour. Standing there, I felt that the garden was a painting that kept changing with every hour.

📘 Canvas of Soil · Learning Beyond the Text

I Mini-project: select one assignment from (1) or (2) – five famous gardens of India / art inspired by gardens – and one from (3) or (4) – design your own garden / interview a gardener.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

(1) Five famous gardens (sample report points):

- Amrit Udyan, Rashtrapati Bhavan, New Delhi – Mughal-style garden, terraces, fountains, tulips and roses; opened to the public every year.
- Brindavan Gardens, Mysuru (Karnataka) – below the Krishnaraja Sagar dam; terraced lawns and musical fountains.
- Shalimar Bagh, Srinagar – Mughal garden built by Emperor Jahangir; terraces and water channels.
- Lalbagh Botanical Garden, Bengaluru – famous glass house and flower shows.
- Nishat Bagh, Srinagar – terraced Mughal garden on the banks of Dal Lake.

(4) Interview questions (sample): How did you learn gardening? Which plants grow best in our soil? How often should plants be watered? How do you make compost? Which plants need the most care in summer?

Then write a short summary of the answers and your experience.
