In some parts of our country, there are frequent reports about Unidentified Flying Objects (UFOs) which people claimed to have seen flying in the sky and which are believed to be space ships carrying aliens from other planets some people have given evidences to support their observations they said that they have found mysterious objects in paddy fields. Some others, after seeing a film on space said that they had seen unusual objects flying in the sky. Public panicked there were arguments and discussions all over the country. Police were on red alert Many community centres were established people become more vigilant gradually the number of sightings reduced.

✔ ANSWER

In some parts of our country, there are frequent reports about Unidentified Flying Objects (UFOs) which people claimed to have seen flying in the sky and which are believed to be space ships carrying aliens from other planets. Some people have given evidences to support their observations. They said that they have found mysterious objects in paddy fields. Some others, after seeing a film on space, said that they had seen unusual objects flying in the sky. Public panicked. There were arguments and discussions all over the country. Police were on red alert. Many community centres were established. People become more vigilant. Gradually, the number of sightings reduced.

(Changes shown in bold. Better grammar would also use 'became' in place of 'become'.)

⭐ Listening

Riddle 1 A farmer bought a goat, a cabbage and a wolf. His boat takes only one of them at a time. He cannot leave the goat alone with the cabbage, nor the goat alone with the wolf. How can the farmer get everything to the other side?

✔ ANSWER

1. Take the goat across and leave it there. Come back alone.
2. Take the wolf across. Leave the wolf and bring the goat back.
3. Leave the goat and take the cabbage across. Leave it with the wolf. Come back alone.
4. Take the goat across again. Now all three are safely on the other side.

Riddle 2

Three humans, one big monkey and two small monkeys are to cross a river. Only humans and the big monkey can row. On either side, humans must be greater than or equal to monkeys (where humans are present). The boat holds two. How will they cross?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

(H = human, B = big monkey, s = small monkey)

1. B and s1 cross. B comes back.
2. B and s2 cross. B comes back. (Both small monkeys are now across.)
3. Two humans cross. One human comes back with s1.

4. One human and B cross. One human comes back with s2.

5. Two humans cross. (All 3 humans are across with B.)

6. B goes back and brings s1. B goes back again and brings s2.

At every step the humans on a bank are never fewer than the monkeys there, so everyone crosses safely.

⭐ Writing · Article Writing

1 'Rules are meant to be observed in spirit not only in letter'. Explain what you understand by this statement. Write an article in about 120–150 words on how the rules can be effectively implemented in the society and citizens can follow it in the true spirit.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Rules: Follow the Spirit, Not Just the Letter

by Ravi Kumar

Rules are made for our safety and comfort. Following a rule only 'in letter' means obeying its words without thinking of its purpose. Following it 'in spirit' means understanding why it was made. In 'All about a Dog', the conductor kept the rule but caused trouble to everyone; he broke its spirit.

Many people wear a helmet only when they see a traffic policeman, or throw garbage when no one is watching. Some pay dowry secretly though it is banned. Such people fear punishment but do not respect the rule.

To make rules work, schools and families must explain the reason behind them. Awareness campaigns, good examples from elders and fair, polite officials can help. Citizens should obey traffic rules, protect trees and respect women's rights because it is right, not because of fear.

When rules are mixed with goodwill and common sense, society becomes safe and happy.

2 Think of an experience (learning to ride a bicycle, watching an animal jump over a wall, a difficult situation, etc.), write down the points, develop an outline and write your experience like a short story.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Outline: wanted to ride a bicycle → afraid of falling → father held the seat → fell once, wanted to give up → father let go without telling me → I rode alone → joy and confidence.

My First Ride

When I was ten, my father brought home a small red bicycle. I wanted to ride it like my friends, but I was afraid of falling. Every evening my father held the back of the seat and ran beside me in the lane.

One day I lost my balance and fell. My knee was bleeding and I cried, "I will never ride again!" My father cleaned the wound and said softly, "Everyone falls once. Try again tomorrow."

The next evening I started again. I kept pedalling and talking to my father, but he did not reply. I turned my head and saw him standing far behind, smiling. He had let go long ago! I was riding all alone.

Like the young seagull, I learnt that fear goes away when we take the first step. That day I felt I could fly.

🛠️ Project

Project Go around your neighbourhood, talk to elders, and collect 10–15 riddles and puzzles in their languages. Ask how and why such riddles emerged, write them in order with information, and present them to the class as a chart and oral presentation.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Points to do the project:

- Talk to grandparents and elders; write each riddle with its answer and the language it comes from.
- Note why it was made (to teach children, pass time, sharpen the mind, at weddings or festivals).
- Example: "A box without hinges, key or lid, yet golden treasure inside is hid." – An egg.
- Example (Hindi): "Ek thaal moti se bhara, sabke sir par ulta dhara." – The sky with stars.
- Arrange the riddles on a chart with pictures and present them to the class.

🎉 Chapter 3 done! Revise the answers once more tomorrow.
