⭐ FSA 1 · Sitting — Circle Time: Strength

1 In which body parts did you feel the stress during the activity?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

I felt the stress mostly in my:

- thighs and calves (legs), from the sitting stance, frog jump and duck walk
- ankles and toes, which carried my body weight
- arms and wrists, which balanced me in the stance
- lower back, from leaning forward

2 Discuss activities that will help in developing body strength and stamina.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Frog jumps and duck walk (leg strength)
- Squats and squat jumps
- Holding the kho-kho sitting stance for 20–30 seconds
- Skipping, running and shuttle runs (stamina)
- Push-ups and planks (arms and core)

Do them a little every day and slowly increase the time.

⭐ FSA 2 · Chasing — Circle Time: Footwork

1 Discuss the footwork that you followed while getting up as described in the skill section.

✔ ANSWER

- I started from the sitting stance (sitting on the toes, hands on the ground).
- To run to the left, I put my left leg forward first.
- To run to the right, I put my right leg forward first.
- Then I ran upright, head up, arms swinging, eyes on the defender.

2 Elaborate the basic rules of kho-kho in your own words.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Two teams play. One team chases and the other defends (runs); then they change turns.
- Chasers sit in a line of blocks in the sitting stance; one active chaser runs to tag the defenders.
- A chaser gives kho by tapping a sitting teammate on the back and saying “kho” at the same time; at least one leg must be behind the cross lane.

- The chaser who gets the kho gets up and chases. Chasers must not cross the centre line.
- A defender who is tagged is out. The team that gets more defenders out wins.

⭐ FSA 3 · Giving Kho — Circle Time: Anticipating the Kho

1 How did you anticipate while playing kho-kho who is going to give you the Kho?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- I watched the active chaser and the defender closely.
- When the defender came near my block and the chaser was close behind me, I knew the kho was coming to me.
- I stayed ready in the sitting stance, so I could get up as soon as I felt the tap and heard “kho”.

⭐ FSA 4 · Running on a Straight Line — Circle Time: Realising mistake and steps to improve

1 Identify and understand the mistake that you probably made while the sound and visual signal for starting the run was given.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Mistakes: I started late because I was not alert; once I started before the whistle; I looked sideways, so my body moved off the straight line and my foot touched the boundary line.

Steps to improve: stay ready in the sitting stance, listen and watch for the signal, keep my eyes on the end-point, keep chest and head straight, and practise quick starts.

⭐ FSA 5 · Dodging — Circle Time: Wrong footing

1 Elaborate your strategy to confuse a player by leaning and dropping your shoulder in one direction and moving in another.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- I run towards the chaser at a steady pace.
- I lean my body and drop my shoulder to one side (say left), as if I am going there.
- When the chaser moves left, I quickly push off and run to the other side (right).
- I also use quick turns and change my speed, so the chaser cannot guess my real direction.

FSA 6 · Zig-Zag Running — Circle Time: Reaction Time

1 Share your experience while playing kho-kho. How did you anticipate the random visual signal for starting a movement?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- At first I reacted late and sometimes went the wrong way.
- Then I kept my eyes on the teacher's hand and stayed ready on my toes with knees bent.
- With practice I reacted faster and changed direction quickly with controlled steps.

FSA 7 · Pole Turn — Circle Time: Pole turning technique

1 Discuss what happens each time when elbows are flexed and not flexed while making the pole turn.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Elbows flexed (bent): the body stays close to the pole, so the turn is short, quick and balanced.
- Elbows not flexed (straight): the body swings far from the pole, the turn becomes wide and slow, and you may lose balance or grip.

⭐ FSA 8 · Covering Chase — Circle Time: Anticipation

1 Pictorially elaborate the strategy for covering and chasing, how to anticipate the opportunity for covering and then attack.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Draw the court with the centre line and the defender. Show the chaser:

- getting up after the kho and walking towards the defender on a straight line (arrow);
- watching the defender's moves and keeping a proper distance;
- when the defender comes near or turns, attacking with a quick straight, left or right move (arrows) to tag him.

(Make the drawing in your notebook.)

⭐ FSA 9 · Chain — Circle Time: Reaction time

1 Elaborate how you anticipated the kho and how to reduce the time between the kho and standing up for a chase.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- I watched the active chaser coming towards me, so I knew the kho was near.
- To get up faster: sit ready in the stance with weight on the toes, keep my eyes on the runner, and push up as soon as I feel the tap and hear "kho".

- Practising the sitting relay race again and again also reduces this time.

FSA 10 · Fake Kho — Circle Time: Unpredictable fake kho

1 Discuss ideas on how you can be unpredictable in giving fake kho.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Use the same body action for a real kho and a fake kho.
- Do not look at the teammate you will really give kho to.
- Change the timing; mix real and fake kho in no fixed order.
- Use a fake kho near the pole too.

FSA 11 · Pole Dive — Circle Time: Footwork and safety for pole dive

1 Why is the footwork important for pole dive? Explain with appropriate examples.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Correct footwork gives balance, speed and safety during the dive. For example:

- Diving left: plant the left foot and grab the pole with the right hand.
- Diving right: plant the right foot and grab the pole with the left hand.

Wrong footwork can make you slip, fall or hit the pole, and the defender gets away.

2 Write a set of instructions on avoiding head or leg collisions with the pole.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Approach the pole at a controlled, steady pace.
- Keep your eyes on the pole and hold it firmly with one hand.
- Keep your head away from the pole; dive to the side, not straight at it.
- Plant the correct foot and keep the free leg clear of the pole.
- After the dive, push off with the outer foot and both hands and turn the other foot around the pole.
- Practise slowly first, on soft ground, under the teacher's guidance.

⭐ FSA 12 · Toe Tapping — Circle Time: Stretch to reach

1 Student will discuss the technique to be used for reaching the cone without falling over the restraining line.

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

- Keep the feet behind the line and bend the knees to stay low and balanced.
- Stretch one arm forward to touch the cone.

- Keep the other hand or body weight back to stop falling forward.
- Come back to the ready position quickly after each touch.

⭐ FSA 13 · 3-2-3 Chain — Circle Time: Appreciating Performance

1 Will you appreciate the performance of the opponent team player and why?

💡 SAMPLE ANSWER

Yes. Appreciating a good player shows sportsmanship and respect. It keeps the game friendly, and I can also learn from their skills to improve my own game.
